THE JONATHAN AND HANNAH STEELMAN FAMILY

The American Dream of our Pioneer Fathers, Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

This book is written in honor of Jonathan Steelman, who came to this country in the year 1692 and settled on the banks of the Delaware River. I will try to give a resume of each member of the family so that future generations may add to this book or merely keep it as a keepsake. Whatever they decide to do with it, it has given me great pleasure to compile it, I only wish I could give more.

Sarah R. Lawyer.

JONATHAN STEELMAN I

Jonathan Steelman I, came to this country from Sweden in the year 1692. Ever since I was a little girl, I have been told tales of the fabulous wealth that the Steelman heirs were entitled to. It seems the above Jonathan Steelman was a pilot. Having lost his life on the Brig Fame in the American Revolution, Feb. 22, 1781. He bought large tracts of land in this country, he realized the value of this land and never sold it, but left a will saying it should be disbursed at the fifth generation. These leases have not been located by the heirs but my Uncle Alex Peterson tried hard to unearth them, and had some of the heirs recorded in orphans court.

This Jonathan Steelman lived in Philadelphia, Pa. From there they went to Swedesboro, N. J., and from there to Tuckahoe, Gloucester Co. in those days, now Cape May Co. At that time all of South Jersey was West New Jersey.

Jonathan Steelman, I, was the father of Matthias Steelman, I.

NOTES FOR THE BOOK

In the year 1934, I had a letter from the Girard Trust Company, in Philadelphia, telling me there was $500,000.00 interest money waiting for me if I could prove my relationship to a certain Anne Haslam.

At the time, I was young, my children were small, and I was having a hard time to keep them fed and warm, so didn't pay any attention to the letter. It was at just this time that my Uncle Alex was on the trail of the lost fortune. Oh, if I could only live my life over again. I was always close mouthed and never told anything. Therefore I never mentioned the letter to any member of the family.

Later Notes

In the year 1947, Mother and I were over to Bridgeton searching the records and we stopped to see Maude Bethel De Hart on our way home.

She told us that a man was to see her from the Steelman Estate and had a check for the heirs. She told him she wasn't interested and sent him to Harry De Hart, widower of Anna De Hart. He lives on the Bridgeton Pike. There must be something to this story.

I had a letter from a Mrs. Catherine Sharp telling me all the things I had heard as a child. That the Traymore Hotel land belonged to us. That they are on leased ground. Also the land from "The Little Church Around the Corner."

Mrs. Sharp also gave me the name of Mr. Frank Keg-rize, who has all the papers for the Steelman Estate. I went to see him with my daughter, Dorothea. He threatened me, admitted that the Steelman heirs paid him to secure them. But refused to let me see any of them. Said most of the older folks were gone on, and he wouldn't let any one have them. Mother is still living and is an original member. He lives on Raynor Terrace in Atlantic City, N. J.

Matthias Steelman I, son of Jonathan Steelman I, married Sarah Adams on September 14, 1730, by John Montgomery, Governor of the Province of New York and New Jersey. Matthias Steelman lived on the Northeast side of the Tuckahoe River, which he bought from John Champion. Matthias Steelman made his will October 15, 1772, and was sworn to on April 9, 1784 before Zib A. Westcott.

Sarah Adams Steelman is the daughter of Jonathan Adams and Barbara who belonged to the society of friends. They were of Mayflower Stock.

Jonathan Adams, father of Sarah Adams, was born November 6, 1668, at Hartford, Conn. He went to Huntington with his mother about 1680, and moved to Great Egg Harbor, N. J., about 1695. He died February, 1726-7. Married Barbara November 10, 1689.

He bought land in Huntington from his brother, Jeremiah or Jeremy, and November 30, 1695, he described himself as of Long Island yeoman. Bought of Thomas Budd 200 acres of land at Great Egg Harbor, and he subsequently bought other parcels of land. About that time he came to New Jersey, joined the Society of Friends, and his descendants for several generations, continued in that faith. In 1726 he was chosen overseer of Friends meeting, and served as special tax collector in 1701 and a justice of the county courts for several years beginning in 1696. A service making him a Colonial Dames Qualifier. He usually spelled his name Addoms. His will May 27, 1719, and proved June 7, 1727, mentions his wife, Barbara, and nine children.

Jeremy Adams born 1604-5, died August 11, 1683, married Rebecca, daughter of John Fletcher and widow of Andrew Warner, Jr. She died at Middletown, Conn., January 25, 1715, age 77.

Jeremy Adams was sent on April 5, 1638, with Captain Mason and others on an expedition to the Warranoche Indians. It is evident that this was an armed expedition, though there was no war at the time, and this service makes Jeremy a qualifying ancestor for the Society of Colonial Wars.

John Adams born 1637, married Abigail Smith, August 26, 1657.

John Adams, son of Jeremy Adams, died in Hartford, Conn., September 6, 1670.

Jonathan Adams, son of John Adams, and grandson of Jeremy Adams, born November 6, 1668, married Barbara November 10, 1639.

Sarah Adams, daughter of Jonathan and Barbara Adams, granddaughter of John and Abigail Adams, great granddaughter of Jeremy Adams, our immigrant ancestor, was born —, married Matthias Steelman in 1730.

In my research and study of the families of the past, life must have been very pleasant and happy. The large homes with plenty of room for company. The graciousness and ease of those spacious homes. Always a room for Grandmother to spend her declining years, without having to go out in the world like they do today. The regular church-going of today. We need to go back to those gentle times. Surely we can escape all the foreign element, and keep together as did our dear forefathers.

The Steelmans, The Adams, The Corsons, were all gentlefolk, church members, and respected citizens in West New Jersey, as it was known in those days. I should say outstanding citizens and pioneers.

Matthias Steelman I, helped to build The Head of the River Church in Tuckahoe, and was one of the original trustees. Most members of the family are buried there.

In those days they had circuit preachers, sometimes it was a whole year before the minister could get to a community, taking him a whole year to make the circuit.

In those days they had marriages that were called Cape May County marriages. The young couple were permitted to live together, by the mutual consent of both parties' parents. Taking their vows before their parents. Then when the minister arrived, they had a religious ceremony. Any children born before the ceremony was performed were not entitled to become members of the D. A. R. In my opinion this was unfair.

STEELMAN LAND TITLES AND HISTORY

Dear Friends and Relatives, I am giving you this outline of The Steelmans in order to help you, or arouse you to action, to gain your rights.

The first settlement and early history of any locality has its attractions for all who live there at a much later period. Little is known about what is known now as Atlantic and adjoining counties, much less about the persons who laid the foundation for the present population and great values in real estate. The land was in crude, undeveloped state, much of it useless for practical purposes.

Absecon Beach was first used as a place of grazing for cattle. The meadows back of it produced the salt hay which was cut and used for fodder. The cattle were brought to the beach on flat boats and left there. They could not get away because the various waterways surrounded the beach entirely.

The settlers lived next to the meadows on the main land and reared large families. The main pioneers were Steelmans, although others have claimed to be. They built their homes near Somers Point, on the mainland. Other early residents became absorbed into the Steelman families through inter-marriage which proves the predominance of the Steelman family then, as well as now.

The early Steelmans bought many tracts of land in enormous acreages with perfect title coming indirectly from the English Government, but received no grants of land. All was bought and paid for, as early records prove; the start was perfect and title legal.

Now conditions are different. Why is it that so many square miles of land, swamp and salt meadow, bought by the Steelmans in the lower half of New Jersey, have no clear title? Every provision was made for a clear title and was given at the beginning. All good government rests only on a foundation of legal ownership of real estate. Clear titles will always be protected by law enforced. No state-made law will stand the test if it conflicts with Federal Law and particularly if it involves real estate and land title. A real estate broker will tell you that he can give you a twenty year guaranteed title. Why not clear title instead of a substitute? The so-called twenty year guaranteed title is based on the squatters' right and the "Homestead Act", a Federal Law. Who knows the full text and requirements of these laws?

It is explained that twenty years peaceful possession and payment of taxes fulfills all requirements. IT DOES NOT! Where title has existed, it must descend to the present holder without a lapse or break if the ownership is to be legal. Why is a clear title not given in South New Jersey as in Philadelphia and elsewhere?

One man's land cannot be legally sold for any debt of another persons. It is done in many ways and frequently, as records at County Court Houses prove. You say it is not possible for the sheriff to sell one person's property for the debt of another person. Recordings prove it to be a common occurrence.

What good is a deed signed by a lunatic or a minor? Early and recent laws do not allow a wife to be deprived of her dower right; then, how can a title be valid if the signature of the wife is not on the deed of conveyance of real estate? Are you satisfied that you can hold a property, the deed of which is signed by some and not all of the joint owners? What value has a deed for property signed by the children of the deceased owner, if a son or daughter, born after the death of the parent and left out of the will, is not a signer? How about a deed improperly certified or not at all certified? If the 1918 New Jersey Tax Sale Law is not legal in Maryland?

Consider the following for a moment. A man owned a property, gave a 99-year lease to another, descendants of the owner could not take possession until the lease expired; years after the lease was given the occupant failed to pay the taxes, the property is sold for taxes to the supposed new owner. By what legal right can the legally helpless heirs be stripped, or robbed, of the property of their ancestors? The heirs are obliged to respect the term of the lease and cannot dispossess the occupant until expiration, and property is sold away from them.

All the above circumstances, and many others, are found to exist of record in connection with Steelman bought properties which cripple title today, A parallel. In New Jersey every owner of an automobile, in order to procure State license, is compelled to produce a clear title from the place of production. Why not the same requirement in regard to the more important possession, land title? If it be advisable to protect the ownership of an automobile fully; the ownership of real estate is far more important. In fact, no person should buy land unless a clear title can be delivered.

Anyone who loans money on mortgage where the property involved has not a clear title, is the most foolish of all. The requirement in connection with automobiles, if applied to the ownership of real estate, would uncover fraud and crime; the knowledge of which existing would disturb present ownership of South New Jersey real estate to an amazing extent, if only the Steelman bought land were included.

Some of the irregularities of title are causing confusion at the present time. This is not due to any other cause than the careful and exhaustive investigation of land title by the association of heirs of the owners of Steelman lands. This large body of industrious and earnest investigators seeks no publicity and permits no interference. It has uncovered astonishing irregularities in the land title of the lower half of New Jersey. The extent of this kind of investigation already done is not suspected by anyone not connected with the Steelman association. Having a membership resident from the Atlantic to the Pacific Oceans, New England States to the Gulf, everything connected with it is upon a large scale.

As in the days of the early settlers, south of Trenton the Steelmans of today, as well as then, hold the most important offices, are in the professions, the sciences, positions of trust, public service, etc.

The first Steelman who settled in this section, Atlantic County, was Judge of the Inferior Court of Gloucester County from the Delaware River to the Atlantic Ocean in Colonial days, then New Jersey was a province. Succeeding generations were represented as alternate Judges in the same Court, others, in numbers, were Justices of the Peace, etc. The main industry in the early days was lumber mills and they were owned by few others than Steelmans. Also the shipping was built and owned by them. In historical mention you will not read a word giving them any credit for what they were or accomplished. No place of honor in records of any kind. It is to be avoided because they were the largest pioneer land owning family of settlers in South New Jersey. The beginning of their American history was not in New Jersey, for Steelmans were born on the site of Philadelphia before the first arrival of William Penn. They, even in the earliest days, were known to be the largest givers of funds toward the erection costs of churches in several States and in numerous cases. Few people, now living, know the facts about South New Jersey Title.

In the beginning, Steelman properties and estates were entailed according to the old English Laws; which laws being abolished about the period of the Revolutionary War and Congress (meeting in any old henhouse so as not to be captured by the British) had time to enact but few laws. Therefore, there was little recourse at Law to carry on personal affairs. It was nearly twenty years after the signing of the Declaration of Independence before Congress had enacted necessary Laws for a new country, a new nation and a new form of government. Then experimental laws were tried, the period of repeal and amendment followed in the effort to correct bungling efforts. The 99-year lease law was enacted, to placate the loss of the entailment feature.

Persons living at that time, having limited opportunity to acquire education (cross mark signature on wills, deeds in great numbers prove this,) became confused by the lack of Laws or the rapid alterations in the effect of them. Due to such conditions, abuses and frauds became a common thing leaving to us of today as our inheritance, as inhabitant and property holder, an undesirable condition of descent of land title.

Expert and thorough search of title records and examinations of collections of very old family records and documents has disclosed facts, rare tales of truth, and clearly indicate how, and by whom, the title frauds were committed in the successive periods. Some properties have several lines of title as is clearly evident in records at county court houses. These conditions are not known to exist, but the records are mute evidence and indisputable and the occurrence frequent.

There is much complaint among our citizens because they are unable to find means of tracing the title of their properties. Title concerns do not want to do the work and try to make people believe that it is not necessary to run the records back more than twenty years. In denial of this, the Courts are sustaining old titles, as far back as the early years of 1700, etc., recognizing their validity in case after case of litigation and in the lower part of New Jersey. There is nothing musty or mysterious in old records, just the plain truth about business transactions. The system of keeping records was excellent in spite of troublesome conditions of living and inconveniences of traveling long distances, not to mention danger of many kinds. Properly empowered officers rendered their services perfectly then as now. The wording of documents was painstaking and elaborate; the writings excellent, considering the quill pen and quality of ink used. No doubt the foregoing is contradictory of general impressions. Experience in searching old records proves ALL here noted to be accurate.

Early in 1926 a number of Steelman heirs determined to organize a permanent body for the purposes of investigating the affairs of their ancestors and tabulation of family records. Articles of association were drawn up by experts. The association came into existence formally in June, 1926. These articles of association embody rules and regulations governing and limiting the powers of the officers and committee persons according to Parliamentary Law. Due to rapid and skillful work of the active members, an immense amount of data has been accumulated, many things hitherto appearing strange, are now clear and particularly plain. Genealogy and title records have been gathered in great quantities from the present date back to and including the first Steelman who settled near Somers Point in 1695. At the time the Steelman association was organized, it was not expected that it soon would be needed as the means, or vehicle, of producing and giving title to land. This very condition is developing for it has the foundation of a bona fide title company. It has been requested to arrange its affairs as such.
